NOTES

Nathaniel Walker was the test subject of a secret US Army attempt to create a new Super-Soldier in the 1960s. Blasted three decades into the future by a nuclear explosion, Walker emerged in the present day with enhanced physical strength and a vast array of energy-based powers.

Taking the code-name Agent Atom, Walker was sent by the US government to spy on the Judgment League, but quit after realizing he would be betraying his hero, the original Super Soldier. When Goldstar appeared from the future looking for allies, Atom readily signed up.
